usually the case after a big openthere was a falling off in the attendand in the quality of the racing at Morris Park yesterday afternoon. Still, he warm weather and the general enthusiasm which holds the public in a vise-like grip served to bring out a crowd of 7,000 persons, who made speculation lively on every race, and though five favorites were beaten the ring did not escape without a singeing because of the backing accorded every winner but one.

The uncertainty of jumping races was rell illustrated in the first event, the St. Nicholas hurdle at a mile and a half, in which Big Gun was a warm favorite at 11 to 10, with confident backing for Gould, Ben Battle and Ohnet. Coming down the stretch to the last hurdle, it looked as if Mara would land the money with Big Gun, for the Artillery gelding was running easily and had been jumping finely throughout the race. But at this last obstacle Big Gun stumbled and fell, sending Mara sprawling on his head. Then F. Ambrose Clark's Seminole, a 40 to 1 shot, who had received a patient ride from Wilson, went on and won easily by three lengths, with Gould carrying off second money three lengths front of Ohnet.

Mara was also cut up about the head, but he will be able to ride again in a few days. The time was 2.51. Mr. Clark won this race last year with Jim Megibben.

The crowd was visibly disappointed at the result of the Larchmont Stakes for and Articulate. Herbert will probably be to fight it out at a mile. The race will be the sixth event on the card, there being seven races in all.

the result of the Larchmont Stakes for maiden three-year-olds at seven furlongs on the Withers course because of the hopeless breakdown of the favorite, E. D. Morgan's three-year-old filly Contusion, by Henry of Navarre—Arnica. It was the second appearance of the filly, her first second appearance of the filly, her first race proving a galloping victory, and the talent went to her with confidence, accepting 4 to 5. A. Featherstone started Ingold, a fine-looking gelding, by Ingoldsby—Radiance, who was backed down from 20 to 1 to fours, and who made all the running, winning in a whipping finish from James Galway's Brigand, who came from away back and was only beaten a nose. Though Love Note swerved badly in the stretch, when Michaels put the whip to her she finished third a length and a half away. Contusion got away quickly and held to Ingold for nearly three furlongs, then she stopped as if a bullet had pierced her brain, and O'Neil brought up the rear of the procession with her.

The filly had bowed a tendon and had also torn several ligaments in her off fore leg

The filly had bowed a tendon and had also torn several ligaments in her off fore leg and when her rider dismounted she was in visible pain. After the race Trainer Boden said that he believed her career on the turf was at an end. Ingold's time was 1:27%, which equals Kilogram's record for the stake.

The colors of R. T. Wilson, Jr., were carried to the front in two events. In the second race at six furlongs on the Withers course Mr. Wilson's Highlander with Burns up was backed down to threes, while Frank Farrell's Minotaur, who opened favorite to the course of the 8 to 5, receded to twos. Andrattus was first to take the track, followed closely Mercer, Highlander and Minotaur. the first to take the track, followed closely by Mercer, Highlander and Minotaur. They had covered a quarter of a mile when Minotaur was bumpd and knocked to his knees. Martin pulled him up and proceeded to ride him with all his might, but the accident cost the Farrell colt the race, for though he got through in the stretch and responded gamely to his rider's punishment he could not overhaul Highlander, who, under a drive from Burns, won by a length in 1:14. Minotaur was a length and a half before Andrattus.

Again in the fifth event, at seven furlongs, Mr. Wilson's Carbuncle proved a genuine good thing, for he was backed down from threes to 8 to 5 second choice, and after receiving a clever handling from Burns he came on through the stretch with a great burst of speed and won by a neck from Stevedore, the favorite, who had made all the running and who stood merciless purishment from Bullman Flying But.

Farce comedy playing in the first inning and a streak of hitting at the same time by the New Yorks gave the latter a winning lead in yesterday's game at the Polo Grounds. The fielding of the Philadelphias while the New Yorks were clouting the ball around was ludicrous. One New York base runner was hit in the back by Hallman while scuttling for home, another reached home because the ball was thrown at his feet by Hulswitt, another landed at first on a child-like fumble by the pitcher, and another scored on a woman-like throw to second by the catcher. It was an eruption of errors, and when the volcanic spasm of blundering was over the New Yorks had seven runs. Browne, the first man up for New York, hit the ball safely and Van Haltren followed suit. McGann's bunt was safe and the bases were filled. Browne was forced home on a base on balls to Mertes. Then came the lurid fielding epidemic. Browne made two hits in the inning and in the course of the game he made five clean catches.

Keister's two two-baggers each meant a run for the Philadelphias. Hulswitt's single batted in the other just after Taylor had given two bases on balls. This was in the fourth inning, and after that he pitched steadily and well. Duggleby, too, pitched a capable game after the first inning. His support was all right after the hysterical first, the five remaining hits made by the New Yorks being scattered through seven innings. When the New Yorks are not finishing strong or battling boldly in the midgame stages they are making hurricane starts, and no team that cannot rally any better than the Quakers has any chance to overhaul them when they leave the post with such a rush as they did yesterday. Fourteen of the Quakers went out on fly balls. Duggleby was good enough to stop Mertes's daily grist of hits.

Pitcher Schmidt's winning way was checked vesterday by the Bostons. His chain of shut-outs was broken and, more than that, the Bostons gave the prize Brooklyn boxman a hard drubbing. Indifferent work in the field by the Brooklyns also helped the Bostons, and the home team, whose playing has been of a marked in-and-out character, was beaten by 8 to 1. In the seventh inning a hot liner from Cocley's bat struck Schmidt on the end of the finger and bruised it badly. Schmidt stuck the inning out. He will be out of the game for several days. BOSTON, May S.—The New Yorks outbatted the Boston Americans to-day and had it not been for a long drive to centre field by Ferris the locals would have been shut out. The little second baseman kept up his record for hard hitting by slamming the sphere for a home run in the seventh. The visitors played a splendid game in the field. Long ate up everything that came his war making one of his old time catches of a liner over his head in the seventh. Errors by the Bostons helped materially in making runs for New York. In the seventh Winters was found for four hits and these, with an error by Gleason, a sacrifice by Ganzel and Conroy's fly to the outfield netted New York four runs.

PROGRAMME FOR THE ANNUAL

gramme of the fifth annual tournament of the Metropolitan Golf Association, to be held at the Deal Golf Club, on May 27, 28, 29 and 30. the Peal Golf Club, on May 27, 28, 29 and 30. Practically all restrictions have been removed except that of membership in an M. G. A. club for the individual championship, so that the field should be the greatest on record, for instead of only those at twelve or under being eligible, any player may enter who is mentioned on the general handicap list. That is, the rating of seventeen or under will permit an entry, and makes eligible 1,093 players, more than double the number eligible last year. To make the tournament even more attract ve than usual, Horace Russell, president of the M. G. A., has put up a cup for the second set to qualify, the first time such a trophy has been played for at the meeting. The individual championship will begin at

Good work is reported by the professionais. Aleck Smith has made a 76 at Nassau, and Will Anderson the same at Apawamis, the latter trying the course record established by W. H. Davis. The grass is still long on both links, the close clipping having been deferred to give the young shoots a chance. At Baltusrol George Low has made on successive days 79, 76 and 73. The latter is a stroke under the professional record, held by David Hunter, but as the seventh hole has been temporarily shortened, making the course two strokes easier, the record is still a mark for Low to shoot at. On Monday at Baltusrol there will be a four-ball match between old antagonists, Mr. Travis and Stewart Gardner, playing Low and Aleck Smith.

Horstmann, Chevy Chase, played in record form and beat two of the best visiting players in the tournament, E. M. Byers, Allegheny, and W. C. Carnegie, J. S. Moiler, Lakewood, won both his matches in the Club cup series by easy margins, beating two leading local players 3 up and 1 to play, and 2 up and 1 to play. Dr. L. L. Harban, Columbia, continued to-day at the top of his game and won a hard earned victory over F. O. Tyler, Yale, R. J. MISS ADAIR'S SECOND WIN. Championship of the Ladies' Golf Union of Great Britain.

LONDON, May 8.—In the ladies' golf championship, which was concluded at Portrush this afternoon, Miss Rhona Adair beat Miss Walker Leigh by 4 up and 3 to play.

Miss Rhona Adair is an Irish girl. She won the championship of the Ladies' Golf Union of Great Britain in 1900, at Westward Ho; and in 1901 she was runner-up to Miss M. Graham, at Aberdovey, Wales, the winner that year. It is the third time that thechampionship, which was first played in 1893, has been contested on a course in Ireland.

Converse May Be ineligible to Run for Harvard This Year.

PHILADELPHIA, May 8 .- The question has been raised here as to whether Converse, Har-vard's best hurdler, is eligible for the ntercolvard's best nurdier, is eligible for the ntercol-legiate games. Converse competed at Har-vard in his freshman year, and the question is whether he represented his college in inter-collegiate sport that year. If he did, he has competed four years and is out. There is a difference of opinion on the point. The question will be definitely settled by the date of the Harvard-Yale sports

Gus Ruhlin Matched to Fight Jack McCormick at Fort Erie.

Billy Madden yesterday arranged a 20-round bout between Gus Ruhlin and Jack McCormick of Philadelphia, McCormick has been anxious to fight Ruhlin for some time and when he convinced Madden that the International A. C. of Fort Erie would give a purse for the scrap Madden quickly brought the match about. McCormick, although not as fast and clever as Ruhlin, is looked upon as a stift puncher. MORRIS PARK RACING GOSSIP. Nothing So Good A. Featherstone Takes Big Money Out of the Ring on Ingold.

A. Featherstone and his trainer, Julius Bauer, made the ring wince when Ingold captured the Larchmont Stakes. Mr. Featherstone placed one of the largest commissions that he has sent into the ring in years, while Bauer backed the gelding wherever he could get his money down. As much as 20 to 1 was obtainable at the opening betting, and when the bugle called the horses from the paddock the general quotation was 4 to 1, but the money was still going on in chunks, so that a moment before the barrier went up 2 to 1 was the best price to be found anywhere. Mr. Feather-stone told all of his friends to play Ingold, before the barrier went up 2 to 1 was the best price to be found anywhere. Mr. Featherstone told all of his friends to play Ingold, and was delighted at the result. It was estimated that $30,000 was taken from the layers on the result of the race, although they won heavily on the breakdown of Contusion. Frank Farrell has temporarily lost his run of good fortune. At Jamaica on Wednesday he dropped some big commissions on Minotaur and Colonist, who were left at the post. On Thursday, at Morris Park, he failed to cash a heavy bet on Nameoki, who carried the assistant starter's whip in his tail all the way from the post. Yesterday he played Minatour again to beat Highlander.

John E. Madden bought a two-year-old colt yesterday named Pulsus, by Top Gallant—Glen Hop, from "Bud" May, trainer of the Gayoso Stable. Pulsus is an unusually big youngster, and has shown some fast work in his trials. It was rumored that Madden paid $20,000 for him, but this could not be verified.

Burns and Bullman carried off the riding honors yesterday with two winners each. Incidentally they were both fined $25 for disobedience at the post in the fifth race.

Dr. H. E. Rowell, trainer of Yellow Tail, who broke down in the Metropolitan Handicap, says that the injury to the horse is not so serious as at first believed, and that the son of Watercress in due time will be able to race again.

Tom Welch, trainer for Julius Fleischmann, will ship Wax Candle and eleven two-year-olds to Latonia to-day.

Dr. Riddle was kicked by Agnes D., while at the post for the last race, the injury inflicted precluding all chance of his winning.

It was said yesterday that the official announcement of the disqualification of Zenus in the Meadowbrook Steeplechase on Thursday did not reach the layers in the field until after many of them had paid off on the supposed victory of Mr. Page's gelding. A man who played Betsy Ross, the winner of this race, straight and third, went into the ring after the event and, thinking that Zenus had won, cashed his show bet. 'test

GOULDS WIN GEORGIAN CUPS. Lakewood by Fine Defensive Work Defeats Westchester in Final Polo Game.

LAKEWOOD, N. J.. May 8.—Playing against he Westchester Country Club first team, one of the best polo fours in this country, the Lakewood first team won a victory in the final Lakewood first team won a victory in the final game for the Georgian Court Cups this afternoon by a fine exhibition of defensive tactics. The score was 22 goals to 12.

The Westchester four, composed of J. M. Waterbury, "Larry" Waterbury, Harry Payne Whitney and J. E. Johnson, gave a handicap of twenty goals to the Gould team. The Lakewood players realized that their only chance of winning against this aggregation of crack players was to play a defensive rather than an aggressive game.

The Westchester four got after the ball with a rush in the first period, scoring four goals in less than eight minutes. In the second period the Gould team scored a goal. Georgo J. Gould picked the ball as it was bounding toward Westchester's goal. Turning quickly, he started round the field after it, and his speedy black pony Crow carried him ahead of Harry Payne Whitney, who, mounted on Terry McGovern, tried to ride him off. Mr. Gould got a good drive at the sphere and sent it bounding toward the goal. It stopped within a few feet to the left of the posts and an overhand stroke by Mr. Gould sent it in goal.

This play was warmly applauded by the

PERMITS SUNDAY BASEBALL. Lawyer Noonan Thinks the Law Against

Sunday baseball playing in Bayonne was upheld yesterday by Recorder Lazarus, who gave his decision in the cases of Manager Joseph Minturn, Capt. Bert Daly and Treasurer William Cassidy, all of the Bayside Athletic Club, who were arrested last Sunday during a game between the Baysides and Poughkeepsies.

Ex-Judge Thomas F. Noonan, counsel for the accused, held that the old law under which the arrests were made was semi-barbaric and nonsensical and does not meet with public favor to-day. He questioned the right of the police to enter baseball grounds in the absence of disorder. The Recorder, in dismissing the complaints, said:

"It has been shown that the game was played on enclosed grounds leased by the club. I do not consider playing baseball on the Sabbath any greater crime than the action of people walking or running for exercise."

The prisoners had submitted to arrest in order to make a test case and they are rejoicing at their victory over the clergymen and church reople who started a crisade avainst Sunday games. The Baysides will play on Sunday and will probably again be arrested, but the game will be permitted to be finished.

Gossip of the Bing. John Hertz, who pilots the affairs of Benny Yanger, made the following statement yesterday: "If Yanger defeats Eddle Hanlon we will force Young Corbett into a match. Yanger has unquestionably earned the right to meet the champion. We are ready to make a match for as much money as Corbett cares to bet, the 'go' to be held some time next month or in July."
